HARDING GAINS STEADILY

Johnson Drops Out of the "Big Three"
Class and Trails Along in Fourth Place; Swing to Ohio Indicates
He May Be Named Standard Bearer.

By Associated Press

COLISEUM, CHICAGO, June 12.—The eighth ballot and no nomination in the Republican National convention this afternoon at 1 o'clock, Chicago time.

By its action the convention surpassed the long distance record of the convention of 1888 which nominated Harrison and seemed to be after the 36 ballot record of the convention of 1880.

Missouri had been clamoring for an opportunity to change the vote of the delegation so as to cast all for Harding. This motion was withdrawn during the convention of the day.

Word came to the convention from Senator Penrose that the nomination of Sen. Harding would not be displayed to him. This word was circulated throughout the convention.

It was reported that in addition to Missouri there would be a delegation in Kansas on the next ballot with a large increase for Harding.

The close of the eighth ballot showed Wood 29 1/2, Lowden 27 1/2, Johnson 27, Harding 23 1/2, Sprout 2 1/2, Coolidge 30, Pennington 1, LaFollette 24, Hoover 3, Butler 2, DuPont 1, Knox 1, Kellogg 1, Leavitt 1.

After the eighth ballot the convention recessed until 4 o'clock.

CHICAGO, June 12.—The Republican National convention went into the seventh inning today with the score tied.

Wood and Lowden both scored a 10 1/2 vote. Lowden had gained exactly 100 votes since the first ballot yesterday. Harding had been making steady but small gains throughout and 5th ballots and the word had come up from the delegates that the leaders were going to fight it out a little longer before the expected break.

Michigan solidly instructed with her 30 votes for Johnson was the first state to change in today's balloting giving votes to General Wood. Ohio also gave some hardening votes to Wood but the Harding column with accessions expected from New York.

With a tie score between the leaders at the end of the sixth ballot and everybody expecting a jump one way or another on the seventh the convention gave itself up to 10 minutes of uproar before it proceeded. The floor leaders of the various forces took advantage of the time the pandemonium gave them to do some hurried conferencing and laying of lines for the seventh ballot.

The first gain on the seventh ballot went to Harding. He got two from Alabama.

Wood got one vote from Connecticut which was taken from Lowden's 131. Delaware gave two of her 24 to Harding.

The row in the Florida delegation which began in the seating contest showed up in a poll demanded. The vote stood seven for Wood and one for Lowden.

Michigan responded with 30 for Johnson according to just actions on the seventh call but another poll was demanded.

On the eighth ballot Michigan broke again and Lowden votes appeared. The time Charles B. Warren, former committeeman from Michigan was conferring with the New York delegation and Lowden accessions were expected.

PENNSYLVANIANS AGREE TO STAND BY GOV. SPROUL

On Honor to Vote For Him as Long as He Has "Reasonable Chance."

By Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 12.—The Pennsylvania delegation in a caucus late last night without a record vote of motion agreed to stand for Governor Sproul's nomination so long as it is felt he has a chance. A motion to stick to the governor until he is reelected was objected to by some of the delegates as preventing them from exercising individual judgment.

Another motion was made to leave the delegates to a committee of five. Fugate state politics cropped up with the result that both motions were withdrawn and it was left to the honor of the delegates to stick to the governor so long as he seems to have reasonable chance to win.

Governor Sproul participated in the decision saving the polling was satisfactory to Pennsylvania and that the state was in a better position to face the convention opened.

The governor said Penrose two weeks ago had predicted the general situation in the convention exactly as it is. He does not believe there is a difference of 15 to 20 as he said.

The Pennsylvania governor said he was not a delegate to the convention but he would not let it stand in the way of the states interest.

Governor Sproul suggested that the delegation should break up it would lose influence with the other states and he thought it best to stand together not alone for him but for the best interests of the party in the state.

James H. Reed of Pittsburg who holds the proxy of senator Knox said he was old for senator Knox to vote for Governor Sproul so long as he had a chance. He intended to do it he said and would decide his subsequent action himself.

"BIG THREE" GET BUSY

Conferences Called on Wood, Johnson and Lowden to State Off Test, Johnson Asked to Take Place on Ticket With Ohio Governor

By Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 12.—Harding of Ohio emerged today from all night conferences of Republican chain as the man to break the deadlock of the Republican presidential nomination.

On him the plan was to concentrate their strength should the convention fail to break the deadlock established Saturday of four tallies.

Senator Harding appeared in the conference. He said he saw a possibility in the matter, private arrangements but he California senator described the meeting as a conference.

Details of the conference were not disclosed. It gained significance because backers of the Harding movement are looking to Johnson supporters for aid if their plan materializes.

The tentative plan was contingent upon failure of early ballots today to result in the nomination of Wood, Lowden or Johnson. Among those with whom Senator Harding conferred were many leaders.

Participants in the conferences and floor manager for Wood, Lowden and Johnson agreed that most ballots would show increased strength for the leading candidate. The men's energy or loss of confidence in success.

Backers of the Harding compromise contended that no nomination would be reached as the situation now stands. They proposed forward their plans to meet his contention by leaving his delegates would not remain over until Monday necessitating action today.

The Harding boomers expected on early ballot to receive enough support to land on the 61st ballot or the last roll called yesterday to pave the way for a drive for his nomination on later.

Organizers of the Harding compromise were known to be seeking support of the Johnson adherents if it became clear that he could not be nominated. To insure strong reinforcements from that direction some leaders urged that a ticket of Harding for president and Johnson for vice president be put forward. The move was nothing to indicate Senator Johnson would consent. Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts also was mentioned as a possible running mate for Harding.

Senator Johnson elect to give his support but not his name to the ticket. Backers of the move would maintain he would power over convention. He would have been claimed or he would have been claimed.

Backers of the Harding boom claimed he could must between 100 and 200 votes on an early ballot and that Johnson could be needed to accept the vice presidential nomination on his compromise ticket practically his entire strength could be swung into line. The largest block of votes was thought could be obtained in the New York delegation. A New York delegate at the New York conference could be swung to Harding at any time. Certain members of the delegation who are opposed to the move said they doubted if more than 50 could be saved.

Opponents of the Harding plan declared they would fight it to the finish in a caucus of the New York delegation tomorrow.

Votes could be drawn from Indiana, Pennsylvania and some of the New England and southern states. Leaders of the Harding movement declared.

Whether Senator Penrose was aware of the new proposal was a moot question. At the conference it was decided he was. This was decided later.

General Wood was informed of the new move. He brought his managers together during the night and they determined to stand by the gun.

Former Senator W. Murray Crane was advised early of the plan. He was non-committal and seemed inclined to wait developments.

Argumens advanced by backers of the compromise plan were that Harding had a good record was not involved materially in the senatorial campaign expenditures and had a confidence of conservative and progressive interests. Conferences between leaders of all fact or looking to a nomination today began at many hotels and clubs immediately after the balloting yesterday. They were still going when the sun brightened Lake Michigan.

Delicate relationships were involved in the Harding negotiations but most of the leaders in the early morning conferences appeared agreeable to bring Harding first among the large field of dark horse material.

In the background were formidable compromise elements like Governor Sprout of Pennsylvania. Leaders were prepared to take up another would the Harding move be wrecked.

SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 12, 1920.

Indictment of
Department of Justice

Special to The Courier.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The announcement in recent dispatches from Boston that after a thorough investigation the National Industrial Conference board has ascertained that the cost of living has advanced 21 per cent in the last 12 months, makes it appropriate to look back over the record of failure in accomplishing in the Department of Justice.

It will be remembered that while President Wilson was over in Europe endeavoring to involve this country in a league of nations, of sort of super-government to which the United States would be subject, the people of this country were discussing the very vital domestic problem of keeping the cost of living within reasonable bounds. Even after his return, it was some time before President Wilson would give attention to this subject.
Finally, however, public criticism of his inattention to domestic affairs became so great that he addressed Congress on the subject and urged such further legislation as might be necessary.

Attorney General Palmer appeared before a committee of Congress and outlined desired legislation, and additional power was bestowed upon him by extension of the Lever Act. In addition to that, appropriations for prosecution of profiteers were made in response to the attorney general's request. After a cabinet conference last August Mr. Palmer issued a statement declaring that he would institute rigid enforcement of laws relating to profiteering. On August 27, Mr. Palmer said that he was "pleased with the government campaign" and that "high prices are coming down."

On September 22, the Department of Justice declared that reports from 12 states showed a cut in food prices. In the latter part of October the Attorney General announced that he was preparing to indict violators of the Food and Fuel Control Act, and late in December he reported progress and predicted a decline in prices.

From week to week for the past nine months the Department of Justice has been issuing statements intended to convince the people of the country that something was being accomplished in accordance with the purpose of the large powers conferred and the large appropriations made to enable Mr. Palmer to conduct a campaign against profiteers for the purpose of reducing prices of the necessaries of life.

The only outstanding and unquestioned result of the activities of the Department of Justice is the decision rendered in the case of the price of Louisiana sugar, in which the department assured the sugar producers that they would not be subject to prosecution if they charged 17 or 18 cents for their product. There is this one specific instance in which it is clear that the action of the attorney general increased the price of a necessity.
There is no tangible or definite evidence that the activity of the department—the exercise of its powers or the expenditure of public money—has brought any relief to the consuming public.

If the National Industrial Conference board is correct in the statistics it gathered, and there has been a 21 per cent increase in living costs during the past year, the statement which that board has prepared stands as an indictment if not a conviction of the Department of Justice.

Be yourself! Don't imitate a man you fancy may be greater.
Follow him when he is leaving in the conduct of good breeding.
Learn from him the things of splendor.
Cheer smiles and actions tender.
Take the other way in dress.
But don't ape the tricks he uses.
Be yourself! Don't even imitate what you are because another.
Does things in a certain fashion, check the imitative passion.
Let the spirit in you guide you.
Power and will have been supplied

Be them! What becomes your

May not suit you as you labor.
Be yourself! There lies no glory in the imitative story.
Sink or swim or rise or tumble—be yourself, however humble.
Copy good men's traits, but never steal their methods of endeavor.
Be sure that you are your own way.

bers, it is understood that if any of the sterner sex ventures to look into this paradise during the day they will not be executed nor tribute exacted.

Honor Declined.

John Shipley of Peckin says he has not the honor of being nor does he desire to become a member of the Peckin Male Dancing club, and that the male or persons so reporting him were in error. He had been in Connellville, he says, and was returning home, being obliged on his way to pass these young bloods giving their first concert. He looked at their antics for a few minutes and then went on home.

Bridal Couple Entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Keffers of Ferguson road had the honor this week of entertaining a bride and groom from their former home at Clairton. The bride was formerly Miss Mary Bailey, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bailey of Clairton, an intimate friend of Mrs. Keffers. The groom was Harry Casperson. The couple were married Wednesday of last week at McKeesport by Rev. W.
S. McCormick, pastor of the West Hollywood M. E. church, formerly the bride's pastor at Clairton. After the ceremony they came here to spend the first few days of their honeymoon with Mrs. Keffers, who had prepared a fine 5 o'clock dinner for them. They left yesterday and after spending a week in the city will be at home to their friends at Clairton.

Fish Baiter Seized.

Andrew Boyd of Clairton and Harry Lambert of Elizabeth motored up to D. A. Keffers' Wednesday and he and they spent yesterday fishing in an upper Dunbar creek and Limestone run, returning to Clairton in the evening.
They were fairly successful, having caught the only fish they saw in the streams. They had planned camping a few days in the mountains but the scarcity of the funny tribe or their reluctance to bite for strangers caused them to abandon the project.

GREENE COAL SOLD

H. A. Davis Pays $1,000 an Acre for Tract of 500 Acres.

By a deal consummated Friday H. A.
Davis of Uniontown purchased the W.
Y. Humphries' tract of coal in Greene county consisting of 532 acres for $1,000 an acre. The tract adjoining the holdings of the Mathers Colliery company, the Union Coal & Coke company an dthe property recently acquired by W. J. Rainey. It is about a mile and a half from the present extension of the P. V. & C. up Ton Mile creek.

This property is considered very desirable. The coal is low in sulphur and is rated as A-1 by-product coal.
When operations now contemplated are ready it will be capable of producing from 1,500 to 2,000 tons of coal daily.

Mr. Davis is a son of Richard Davis of Uniontown, former clerk of courts.

the National Tube company, is quoted as saying 1,000,000 freight cars which would cost $3,000,000,000 should be added to the railroad equipment of this country in the next five years.

HOT STARCH KILLS CHILD

Drowning Accident Follows Mother
Placing It on Porch.

Burns suffered when he fell into a bucket of hot starch resulted in the death of Joseph Alberts, 16-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Alberts of near Trotter, Wednesday night at the Cottage State hospital.
The child's mother had placed the starch on the back porch of her home and while she was not looking the child crawled to the bucket and fell into it.

The body was taken charge of by Funeral Director Francis J. Stader.

ing at the house, followed by interment in the Greek cemetery at Lan-

By, for and in the interests of the Officers, Soldiers and Enlisted Men of Company D, Tenth Infantry, U. S. A.

VOL. L JUNE 12, 1920 No. 6

EDITORIAL.

There are quite a number of young men who would enlist in Company D if they could gain the consent of their parents. There was a certain young man of Connellsville who applied for enlistment in the Company but when he told his parents about it they would not let him enlist. If people like this would only consider what they are doing they surely would not expect as many young men to leave home to enlist in the Regular Army for a term of three years or more. On the other hand had their parents consented they would have enlisted in Company D and remained at home.

Just the other day quite by accident a mother was talking to one of Company D's men telling him that she was all broken up because her son was going to enlist in the Regular Army. The Company D man suggested that he have a talk with her boy which he did and by doing so had the young man sign up. The mother is happy now as she knows that her son's wants were filled and that she is him at home.

If all the parents of young men in Connellsville and vicinity would only give this matter a serious thought, Company D would soon be over the top with a 100 per cent enlistment.

REGIMENTAL NOTES.

Machine Gun Company, Captain Dovie commanding has made application for state and federal recognition. What will be the next company to make application? Let's make it be Company D and see if Connellsville can not have as good a company as any one in the regiment. Captain Dovie has an excellent bunch of men it has been the need man of them being formed. Let's men and no doubt the 11 make a fine showing at the annual encampment.

The following is the standing of the different companies of the regiment as of May 1st:

Machine Gun Company	30
Musical Gun Company	30
Supply Company	30
Company A	31
Company B	32
Company C	110
Company D	82
Company E	88
Company F	104
Company G	111
Company H	45
Company I	95
Company J	70
Company K	68
Company L	94

Colonel Edward Martin has advised us that a special effort should be made to complete recruiting by June 15th so that the company can receive federal recognition during June. This means that recruiting should be far enough along so that the company can receive state recognition by June 15th, thereby giving the commanders time to secure equipment for camp.

INFORMATION.

Company L has asked for an inspection for state recognition.

Company H now has 61 men and expects to be able to ask for inspection within a week.

It has been concluded that the First Cavalry 10th, 11th and 12th Infantry Regiments will go into camp on the 1st of July returning to their home stations on August 14. The First, Third Sixth Eighth and 18th Regiments will go to camp from August 7 to 20, inclusive also all other units of the division which do not go to camp earlier. A part of the artillery will attend the camp at Bragg during September.

Colonel Edward Martin 16th Infantry has advised us that Mount Gretna is being put into splendid condition for the encampment and it is most heartily believed that this year's camp will be the most successful encampment ever held.

NOTES.

Fourteen men reported at the armory at 7 A. M. Thursday for the final recruiting campaign of the company. The men were divided into teams each team being assigned a field to cover. The territory included Uniontown and vicinity, Dawson Normalville, Dunbar, Everson and Connellsville and vicinity. The work was with good results 17 men being recruited.

We feel certain that the full quota will be received by June 15th which date has been set by Colonel Martin to complete the company. When the full quota has been received Company D will ask for state recognition and at the same time apply for full equipment.

All former service men who are members of Company D are requested to report at the armory Monday night.

"BETWEEN DETAILS"

He Oh boy I sure am going to that Spooner reception at the Army on Monday night.

The girl in the glass. Yes and you are going to enlist in Company D too.

The top sergeant of the company recruited from Mount Braddock had a bad cold but was manfully trying to call the roll. Finally he could not postpone the impulse to sneeze. Skowish hoc he exploded. Here called seven private and one corporal.

First private (apologetically) Got a cigar?

Second private (indignantly) Say how many cigars do you graft in a day?

First private (nonchalantly) Oh any given number.

Oh boy! Whoopee! The company's gone over the top on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in uniform.

DANCE DATE SET.

An invitation dance is to be given in honor of the Spooner club and new recruits of Company D Monday evening June 14. The entertainment for the evening promises something of interest for everyone.

It has been learned from authoritative sources that the entertainment for this night will be all that could be expected. A six piece orchestra has been engaged for the occasion and the committee on entertainment is making an effort to secure the West Penn quartet. This quartet of male voices has met with great success in its engagements throughout the whole region. There will be dancing from 8:30 until 12 and also other entertainments for those who do not care to dance.

The decorations are in charge of Robert Springer as chairman with James M. Leech, Joseph D. Barber, Herman L. Francis, Harry Rodgers and LeRoy H. Leight as his assistants. All decorations will be along military lines and will be first class in every way.

The refreshment committee is composed of A. M. Krepps, chairman and John W. Pollock and Paul R. Rodgers. The invitations are in charge of Robert Hannan, chairman and Herbert Ellis and Russell J. Engleka. There have been about 300 invitations sent out and quite a number are being made ready for mailing.

"My face became full of blotches on the cheeks and forehead. My skin became very rough and scaly and I was ashamed to appear in public. "After suffering about five months I heard of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used a free sample and bought more, and I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment and I was healed." (Signed) Benjamin Bailer, 348 Central St. Philadelphia.

DUNDEE-PRYEL BOUT OFF.

The "Allentown" Dundee-Ray Pryel bout which was to take place next Friday evening at Allentown has been canceled in favor of a bout that will feature Johnny Donnelly of that city. The bout was called off by the matchmaker of the Fayette Athletic Club, the promoter, after a large number of fight fans expressed themselves as against the Dundee-Ray fight and in favor of seeing Donnelly as the star attraction. Efforts will be made to sign Tommy Phillips of McKeesport in a return bout with the county sealer. The matchmaker is trying to get Eddie Wilmer to meet his old foe Patsy Brannigan in the semi-final of eight rounds.

The Man Who Wasn't Himself

By ROBERT AMES BENNETT

(Copyright, by V. G. Chapman)

Clinton drew back, stiff with embarrassment. "Miss—Lowrie," he replied, "you and Miss Kirkland—forget that I am not—"

"Please—WHY?" broke in Ellen. "Do not say that—do not!"

"He only means not himself," suggested Amy. She smiled at the young man hopefully. "Perhaps you might remember, if you made believe. Don't mind me. I'll turn my back."

The young man gave over the unequal contest. "Have it your way, if you must; only please remember and spare as only Doctor Kirkland receives the answering telegram with regard to Mr. Lowrie."

"When you know and must believe that you are you!" sighed Ellen. "But we won't starve you while you wait," added Amy. "Come in to breakfast. I smell bacon!"

Breakfast at Amy Lowrie's breakfast hour was far too early for Mrs. Kirkland. Clinton remained at the mercy of the young ladies. But he was quite submissive. He drank his cup of coffee without protest, and even went so far as to ask the dairy server for a second cup. In return the girls limited their demonstrations of affection to tender glances.

After the meal he at once excused himself on the plea of letter writing and withdrew to his room. He did not come out until midmorning, when, as had been agreed, Doctor Kirkland called to take him down to the bank.

"Good morning, sir," he returned the physician's cordial greeting. "May I ask if you have telegraphed for news of Mr. Lowrie?"

"The message was sent last night," Clinton replied. "Then you will probably receive the reply this morning?"

"Not nearly so soon—no. We shall hear not later than this evening, however."

Clinton looked gravely at Amy. "In that event please do not expect me for lunch. I shall wait until the telegram comes and you know I am not your brother. After that, if I may have the privilege—"

"What if the telegram is delayed until tomorrow?" she objected. "You promised to stay. You must come home for dinner at least, else we shall be frightened."

"Very well," he bowed, and before Ellen or her mother could speak he was out of the room.

A drive of a few minutes brought the car down to that solid and conservative bank, the Fourth National of Denver. As Clinton followed Doctor Kirkland in through the screen door an outbursts of business men paused to clap him on the shoulder and tell him he was home looking fine and fit. Clinton nodded and passed on into the bank.

The big hawk-eyed guard, who was wandering about through the crowd, glanced at him and bowed. Again he nodded. On all sides men were recognizing him by smiles and nods. Some would have detained him with words of welcome and inquiries as to his long holiday. Doctor Kirkland saved him from the embarrassment of coherent answers by leading him briskly across to the desk of the cashier.

Bennett, as fastidiously dressed as ever, was sitting within the enclosure. At sight of Clinton he sprang to open the gate, with a cordial: "Ah, here you are! Come right in. You, too, Doctor Kirkland."

"Must go back to my office," replied the physician. "Can stop only to endorse Mr. Clinton's draft if that is necessary."

"Not at all," said Bennett. "I've explained Mr. Clinton's old resemblance to Mr. Lowrie. The draft will be cashed all right."

Clinton drew out his draft and informed it under the sharp gaze of the cashier without the slightest trace of hesitancy.

The cashier glanced at the ticket, handed it back to him, and turned to another customer. "The money will be sent in to you," he said in a brusque tone.

"His busy day, I know," drawled Bennett, signaling Clinton to come with him through the door behind the rail. "Cashier runs the bargain counter of a bank. Quite a bore, I take it. Give me the vice presidency. Stately leisure—all that, I know."

Clinton stopped short, his fingers thrust into the fold of his waist. "It must have dropped out," he muttered. "What's that?" inquired Bennett. "The check for the suitcase. I must have dropped it."

"You did—last evening," replied Bennett. "No doubt it fell out with your baggage check. I must have been still a bit confused from that knockout blow when I picked them up. This morning I found the brass check in my pocket."

"Yes," said Clinton, holding out his hand. Bennett smiled suavely. "You'll pardon the liberty, I'm sure. I happened to be down at the depot, and thought you might like to have your suitcase up at the house."

"Thanks. Doctor Kirkland will hear today with regard to Mr. Lowrie, so I may be leaving tonight. But it was thoughtful of you."

"You think of leaving tonight?" protested Bennett.

"The moment my identity is established I fancy neither Miss Kirkland nor Miss Lowrie will urge me to stay."

"I'd be glad to put you up in my digs until you've got in touch with people here," offered Bennett. Clinton met the cordial invitation with a frank smile and an equally frank refusal. "That's good of you. But with the town determined to believe I'm Mr. Lowrie, and the young ladies annoyed at finding I'm not, it will be a bit too uncomfortable."

"Ah, yes," murmured Bennett, and he knocked softly at a door. "Here is the office of the vice president."

A bland, elderly gentleman opened the door. Bennett introduced Clinton to him, and declined the vice president's invitation to enter, with the excuse that he wished to chat with one of the assistant cashiers. Clinton sat down with the vice president, who remarked casually on his strong resemblance to Will Lowrie, and started a witty conversation.

Bennett, meantime, had gone through the inclosure of the first assistant cashier into the office of the bank president, a small, cold-eyed, correct banker. Bennett slipped into a chair at the banker's elbow and murmured concisely: "No trace of the key in the suitcase, sir. I saw his baggage checks and noted the numbers. His trunks went on to the coast. Wired 'Friday' for them to be watched and held, if necessary. The probability is that he has the key on his person. He has changed suits to one he wore last summer, to which, no doubt, he has shifted the key."

"Get it," said the president.

"At the first opportunity, sir. I do not think it best to show our hand until we have our proofs—or he attempts to leave town."

URGES PEOPLE TO FIGHT CATARRH WITH SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY

Can Make Pint at Home and Costs Little, Says Leading Druggist of Covington, Ky., Who Has Made Special Study of Catarrh.

Says: Inflamed Nostrils Invite Influenza

People who say that catarrh is a disease not to be taken seriously are harshly rebuked by a Kentucky druggist who has for years been much interested in the growth of this loathsome, yet altogether too common disease.

He claims that the sore, tender, inflamed membrane of the nostrils and throat is a prolific breeding ground for germs—not only the germs of influenza, but many other kinds as well.

If people would only stop experimenting for two weeks and try a simple remedy made of Mentholized Arcline mixed with enough boiled water to make a full pint, half of the catarrh in this country would be abolished. It's really no joke for people who don't know about this simple recipe to be constantly sniffing and snuffling, blowing and hawking, when all these obnoxious symptoms as well as the foul discharge can be made to disappear in a few days.

Ask for three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcline—that's all you need and after you have mixed it with enough boiled water to make a pint, gargle the throat twice daily and sniff or spray some up the nostrils, as directed.

The tender nostrils will soon lose their soreness, heal up, and be clear and healthy.

Important Reminder: Just as soon as anyone in the family gets a cold in the head, check it at once with this same medicine.

LAXATIVE for Aged People

THE BANE of old age is constipation. The bowels become weak and unable to perform their functions without aid. For this purpose only the mildest and gentlest laxative should be used. The use of harsh cathartics aggravates the trouble and makes the constipation worse. Chamberlain's Tablets are a favorite with people of middle age and older on account of their gentle action.

Booze Is Not a Good Cure.

From the Ames Iowa Intelligencer. When a man comes in you all doubled up with pain and declares he will die in your presence unless you procure him a drink of whisky, send him to a doctor or else give him a dose of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. There is a mistaken notion among a whole lot of people that booze is the best remedy for colic and stomach ache.—Adv.

Takes Hold and Helps.
Colds that "hang on" should be gotten rid of for no one can stand the strain of hacking cough, disturbed sleep and irritation of throat and lungs. Marie Elsler, Freeport, Ill., writes: "I had more or less of a cough for years and I have taken quite a number of medicines. None of them takes hold and helps like Foley's Honey and Tar. This old, reliable cough syrup promptly helps coughs, colds, croup, and whooping cough. Contains no opiates. Children like it. Sold everywhere.—Adv."
